Club positions itself at a time and place where Western men feel the past symbolic of the patriarchy recede and decay, are justifiably anxious and afraid of their seeming subjective deterioration, but are thus given the opportunity to make choices about how to participate in the new symbolic order that can be raised from the ashes. After a mysterious attack wipes out the major cities of 19th century Japan, Korea, and China, survivors from all three lands find refuge on a hidden island and build a new society.
